COLSON TRIAL GOES OVER TO FEBRUARY

Commonwealth Not Ready For Hearing Of Men Charged With Killing In Bell

Madison will not have the famous Colson-Bell trial at this, the October term of circuit court, after all.

In circuit court, Saturday morning Judge Shackelford granted continuance of the trial until the seventh day of the February term 1923. The continuance was granted on motion of the commonwealth which told the judge it was not ready for trial at this time.

The trial of George Colson, charged with the murder of Ira Bell, was transferred to the Madison circuit court on a change of venue, because of feeling in Bell county, it was said. The killing of Bell occurred in the Pineville courthouse, during the hearing of another case in which members of the two families were engaged.

Former Governor James D. Black, of Barren county, came here Friday to look after the interests of Colson. Among other noted mountain lawyers who were here in connection with the case were J. E. B. Smith, of Middleburg; J. E. Bingham, of Pineville; John Howell, of Pineville; and J. E. and C. D. Bell, of Pineville.

LIQUOR COMES OFF ALL OUR SHIPS

Washington, Oct. 7.—Masters of shipping board vessels were ordered today in accordance with Attorney General Daugherty's liquor opinion to surrender to the treasury department all intoxicating liquors aboard such ships. The order applies to the government ships operated by the shipping board and under charter to private concerns and becomes immediately effective with respect to vessels in American ports. It will be made effective on those at sea and on foreign ports upon their arrival at American ports.

Daugherty's opinion, which holds intoxicating liquors may not, under any circumstances, be brought within territorial waters of the United States, took the foreign embassies here by surprise. None of them is willing to predict what the outcome of this new development in the international phase of the dry law enforcement.

COLLINS LONG IS ACQUITTED BY JURY

After one of the hardest fought legal battles seen in the Richmond courthouse in some time, Collins Long, prominent former of the White's Station section, was acquitted by a jury in circuit court here Friday on a charge of having a moonshine still on his farm. He was defended by Attorneys Burnham and Greenleaf. The principal witness against Long was Will White, who is serving a jail sentence upon his confession that he operated the still that was found. Long testified that he knew nothing of the still and the defense's contention upon which it won out was that White had "planted" the still there in retaliation for failure of Long to furnish him money to pay his fine, etc.

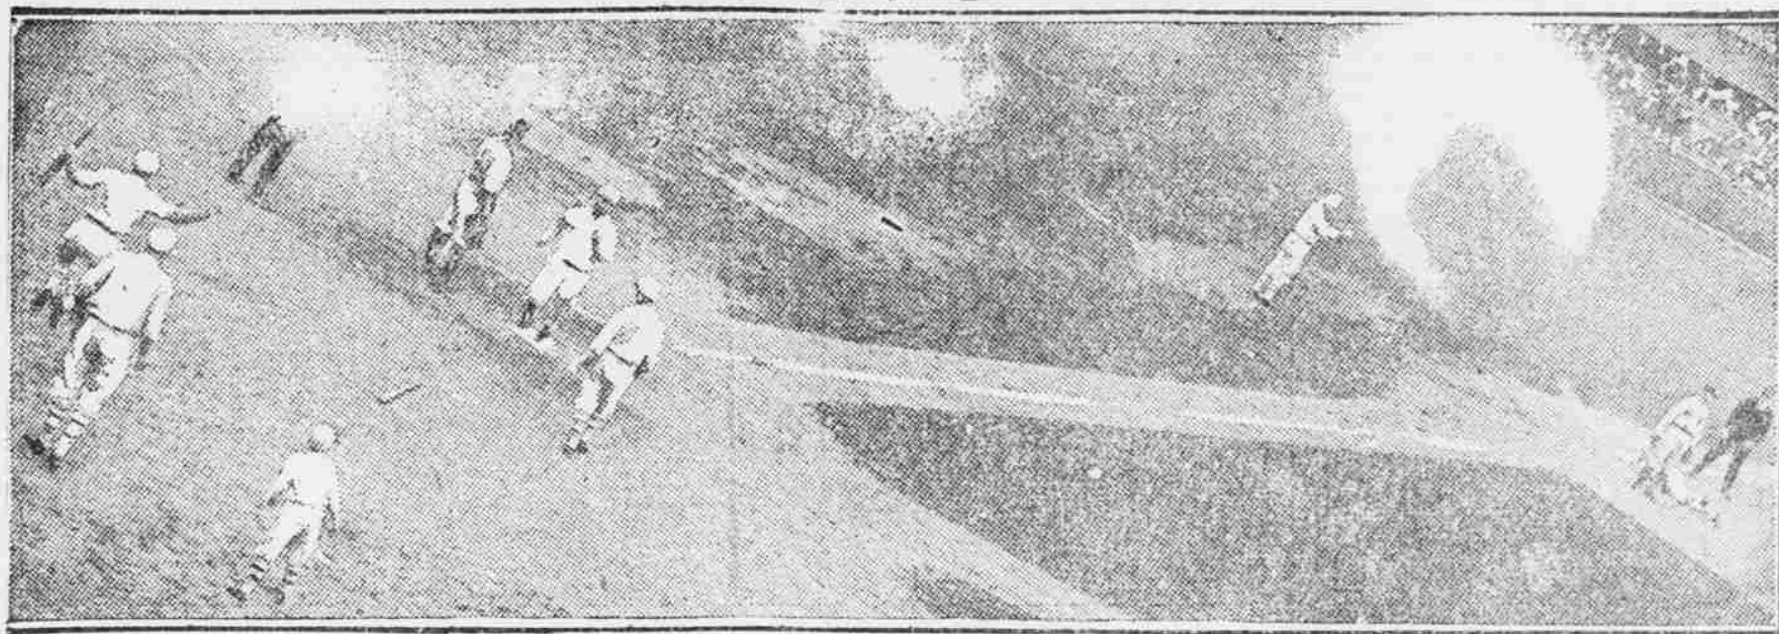

Circuit court on Saturday took up the murder case of Ty Baker, charged with killing Willis Albney in the Bearwallow section. Baker is being defended by Attorney O. P. Jackson, of the local bar, and Attorneys Hiram Dean and Luther Little, of Jackson county.

MIDWAY WINS BY THREE POINTS

Madison High School lost a tough football game Friday afternoon on the Normal gridiron, when the invading Midway High eleven rolled up nine points, while the locals could only make one touchdown for six markers. The Madison gang fought like wild cats most of the time and really did credit to their school and coach by the fighting spirit which they displayed.

The visitors have a real eleven having gone thru all last season without a defeat and having already won two games this year. They would have been held to a tie, or possibly beaten, but for several breaks going against the locals. An exchange of punts was really the cause for the Midway touchdown.

The Madison kick-off was returned to the 38 yard line where the visitors were held for downs. Portwood, star punter for Midway, booted the ball to the locals' 10 yard line where they were forced to punt on the first down. It traveled about 30 yards and was returned within 35 yards of the goal, making a loss of about 30 yards to Madison in the exchange of punts. Two end runs followed by several line plunges were responsible for the touchdown for Midway. Portwood carried the ball over the goal line.

Toward the close of the first period a pass over the line 20 yards to Hacker who carried it about 25 additional yards, put the locals in position to score their touchdown. The Madison backs tore great gaps in the heavy Midway line and by numerous end runs, including a 17 yard gain by Reeves, and a 15 yard pass to Wells, the ball was taken within 5 yards of the line. Here Clouse passed over the line to Reeves for a touchdown.

Midway won out just before the close of the second period when Littrell booted a perfect drop-kick from the 22 yard line. Reeves, who played a fine game all the rest of the way, paved the way for this performance when he muffed a Midway punt about 15 yards from the line, which was recovered by Littrell. On an attempted run around right end Midway lost seven yards when Gentry broke up the interference and got his man. Then Littrell kicked the field goal from that position, which brought victory to his team.

In the last period Madison had a fine chance to win out, but failed to complete a pass when only 20 yards from the line. They advanced the ball about 50 yards to this position by straight football. Clouse was a steady ground gainer thru the line as well as the rest of the back field men, Reeves, Farley and Hugely, all playing good football thruout. Littrell who was the thorn in Madison's side

COMMUNITY NURSE IS NOW ASSURED

The council voted $600 a year to assist in defraying the salary of the nurse, the remainder of about $150 a month being paid by the Fiscal Court, the State Board of Health and the federal government. The vote in the council was 3 to 1 in favor of the appropriation. Two members not voting. Strong arguments in favor of the city's co-operation were made by Drs. R. L. Telford and O. O. Green, representing the Welfare League.

DR. DARLINGTON WARMLY GREETED

When He Preaches Two Sermons Here and Pays Tribute To Miss Bennett

Crowded houses greeted Bishop U. V. D. Darlington, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, when he spoke here Sunday in the interest of the Belle H. Bennett Memorial, and at the same time paid, in the morning service a deserved meed of tribute to the memory of this noble woman.

Dr. Darlington's morning sermon was made the occasion of a union service by all the churches of the city, as tribute to Miss Bennett, who was so universally beloved. Special music made the service very impressive. In his sermon Dr. Darlington spoke as follows:

My friends, before I read out of the New Testament scriptures, I think it wise and best to make a statement, which, to you, might seem a little unusual. I have been going so constantly and been away from home most all the time so that a little misunderstanding came about between Brother Sadler and myself—not a serious one—or I did not understand the character of the services which we were to hold this morning until I arrived here last night, but nevertheless, I hope by the help of the blessed Spirit we may have this morning a service such as Miss Bennett would wish us to have if she knew our minds and hearts, or rather if she were here—and she is. With that kind of explanation, I hope none of you will pass judgment upon the exhortation or deliverance of the morning until we are through for I must necessarily approach it from what might seem to you to be an unusual angle. In the gospel as recorded by St. John in the 14th chapter, I shall read a few verses and then again in the gospel according to St. Matthew in the 16th chapter:

"Let not your hearts be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me.
In my Father's house are many mansions if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.
And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself that where I am there ye may be also.
And whither I go ye know and the way ye know."
Thomas saith unto Him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?
Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me.

When Jesus came into the courts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?

And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist, some Elias, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.

He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

And Simon Peter answered and said Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

And Jesus answered and said unto him Blessed are thou, Simon Bar-Jona, flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee but my Father which is in heaven.

And I say unto thee That thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail
